10 Privacy Statement

The personal information you provide to us will only be used to facilitate your participation in the event.

11 Risk Statement

Rule 3 of the Racing Rules of Sailing states: "The responsibility for a boat's decision to participate in a race or to continue racing is hers alone."

Sailing is by its nature an unpredictable sport and therefore involves an element of risk. By taking part in the event, each competitor agrees and acknowledges that:

- a) They are aware of the inherent element of risk involved in the sport and accept responsibility for the exposure of themselves, their crew and their boat to such inherent risk whilst taking part in the event;
- b) They are responsible for the safety of themselves, their crew, their boat and their other property whether afloat or ashore, and will carry adequate lifesaving equipment for all persons on board;
- c) They accept responsibility for any injury, damage or loss to the extent caused by their own actions or omissions;
- d) Their boat is in good order, equipped to sail in the event and they are fit to participate;
- e) The provision of a race management team, patrol boats and other officials and volunteers by the event organiser does not relieve them of their own responsibilities;
- f) The provision of patrol boat cover is limited to such assistance, particularly in extreme weather conditions, as can be practically provided in the circumstances;
- g) It is their responsibility to familiarise themselves with any risks specific to this venue or this event drawn to their attention in any rules and information produced for the venue or event and to attend any safety briefing held for the event;
- h) Their boat is adequately insured, with cover of at least £3,000,000 against third party claims.

12 Sailing on the Menai Strait – Information for competitors

The Menai Strait is a beautiful stretch of water running from Fort Belan in the SW to beyond Puffin Island at the NE. But while it can appear perfect for sailing competitors need to take into account the specific nature of the water before setting out to take part in a race.

- Tides: The tides in the Menai Strait are legendary for their speed and range. At spring tides certain places along the Menai Strait can experience tidal range exceeding 6m and speed of 3 to 4 knots.
- Sandbanks: All along the Menai Strait there are sandbanks that are exposed as the tide falls – even at neap tides. Some of these lead into dead end channels.
- Waves: The Menai Strait is sheltered but can still experience very difficult sea conditions in strong winds and tides.
- Wind gusts: In certain areas the effect of the hills around the shores of the Menai Strait can lead to very gusty winds with sudden changes of direction.
- Marine Traffic: The Menai Strait is used by both commercial shipping with large vessels present which are constrained to the main channels; commercial fishing operations which may be anywhere that the water allows them to operate; tourist boats and pleasure craft including yachts, windsurfers, power boats, diving boats, jet skis, foil boards, rowing craft, stand up paddle boards and others.
- Moorings and Fishing Equipment: There are many moorings around the Menai Strait. Even when no vessel is attached to the mooring attention needs to be paid to the equipment in the water which can interfere with sailing. Unattended fishing equipment is also present.
- Underwater obstructions: In some places there are rocks, slipways, outfall pipes and other items underwater that cannot be seen but could cause damage to a boat that hits them.

If you require further information about any of these risks ask the race officials at the start line or seek advice from other competitors.
